--------------SELF-IDENTIFIED NON-HISPANICS WITH HISPANIC ANCESTRY---------------

This topline contains data from two surveys of adults with Hispanic ancestry or heritage: a survey of "self-identified Hispanics" and a survey of "self-identified non-Hispanics." The sample of self-identified Hispanics includes U.S. adults who answered "Yes" to the question "Just to confirm, are you, yourself of Hispanic or Latino origin or descent?" The sample of self-identified non-Hispanic adults includes U.S. adults who indicated they do not consider themselves to be Hispanic or Latino but have some form of family ancestry rooted in Latin America or Spain. This population was selected through a question in a national general population omnibus survey that asked "Are you of Hispanic origin or descent?" – Respondents who answered "no" were then asked a series of ancestry screening questions. A respondent that indicated that a parent, grandparent, or an earlier ancestor or descendant had some Latino or Hispanic ancestry were then considered part of this sample.

For more information on this group and a more detailed explanation on the sample design, please see Methodology.

[8] Language dominance is a composite measure based on self-described assessments of speaking and reading abilities. "Spanish-dominant" persons are more proficient in Spanish than in English, i.e., they speak and read Spanish "very well" or "pretty well" but rate their ability to speak and read English lower. "Bilingual" refers to persons who are proficient in both English and Spanish. "English-dominant" persons are more proficient in English than in Spanish.

[10] The demographic questions displayed for the self-identified non-Hispanic survey were asked as part of an national general population omnibus survey and appeared in that survey's questionnaire before the self-identified non-Hispanics survey's main questions were administered, unless otherwise noted. For the self-identified Hispanic survey, the demographic tables are displayed in the order that they appeared in the questionnaire. However, demographic tables are not necessarily in the order they were administered in the self-identified non-Hispanic survey.
[11] This question was asked at the end of the self-identified non-Hispanic survey. It is not part of the national omnibus survey's demographic battery of questions.

QUESTIONS 3-11 MOVED FROM FRONT OF DOCUMENT

ASK ALL SELF-IDENTIFIED HISPANICS
3.   Now I want to ask you about you and your family's heritage. Are you Mexican, Puerto Rican, Cuban, Dominican, Salvadoran (sal-vah-DOOR-en), or are you and your ancestors from another country?
(IF ANOTHER COUNTRY: What country is that?)
(IF STILL NOT SURE, ASK: Are you and your ancestors from Central America, South America, or somewhere else?)
(ACCEPT MULTIPLE ANSWERS)

ASK ALL SELF-IDENTIFIED NON-HISPANICS
3.   Earlier you mentioned that [one of your parents is of Hispanic or Latino origin or descent/both of your parents are of Hispanic or Latino origin or descent/one of your grandparents is of Hispanic or Latino origin or descent/ one of your great grandparents or early ancestors has a Latin American or Spanish ancestry]. Do you happen to know what specific Latin American or Spanish ancestry or ethnic origin that is, or not? For instance, is your family Mexican, Puerto Rican, Cuban, Dominican, Salvadoran (sal-vah-DOOR-en), Spanish or are your ancestors from another country?
(IF ANOTHER COUNTRY: What country is that?)
(IF STILL NOT SURE, ASK: Are you and your ancestors from Central America, South America, or somewhere else?) (ACCEPT MULTIPLE ANSWERS)
